RIO GRANDE WILL SOON RUN HIGH

PROSPERITY STANDS ACE HIGH OVER IN PECOS VALLEY

Flood of Water Expected Between May 10 and 20: County Engineer Ogle Looking After Dikes and Dams.

Water in the Rio Grande is rising steadily owing to the melting of snows in the Colorado and New Mexico mountains constituting its drainage basin. County Engineer A. B. Ogle has been superintending the repair of dykes and wing dams along the river bed north of the city, and says that farm lands are safe from inundation in that quarter. A force of workmen have been employed during the past week in improving the dykes in the neighborhood of Roswell for the past week.

Although the period of the highest water is ordinarily between May 15 and 20, diminishing gradually throughout the month of June, Engineer Ogle has inaugurated the safe policy of beginning the yearly repairs early to guard against unexpected rises in temperature and consequent floods in the valley.

MOUNTAINAIR DRY FARMERS JOYFUL OVER PROSPECTS

Entire District Has Been Soaked By Rains: Splendid Crops Assured Even With No Further Precipitation.

Dry farmers in the Mountainair district are joyful and enthusiastic over the prospects of a bumper dry farming crop this year, according to H. B. Hinman, secretary of the New Mexico Bureau of Immigration, who returned last night from a drive through the district.

I took an eighteen mile drive into the country in the vicinity of Mountainair, said Mr. Hinman this morning, "and the wheels of the buggy got into the mud two and three inches. The entire Mountainair district has been thoroughly soaked. Dry farmers are nearly frantic with joy because of the recent assurance of good crops. The farmers said that even if there be no further precipitation, bumper crops will result. And it rains fall during the season, as is almost certain, the crops will be more marvelous. The wheat, oats and alfalfa in the Mountainair district look fine. The growing crops demonstrate vividly what can be accomplished by dry farming under favorable conditions. The acreage planted in the Mountainair district this year is double that of any previous year."

Every lady will want one of the souvenirs given at the Gem matinee tomorrow.
